Summary

Mobile engineer with 4+ years shipping cross-platform React Native apps in TypeScript for high-traffic, customer-facing products — most recently lifting in-app engagement 30% for a major US grocery retailer. I build and release to the App Store and Google Play, back features with automated tests, contribute actively to code reviews and architecture discussions, and use Claude and other LLM tools daily to raise my throughput without lowering the bar. Comfortable across the wider stack — Golang, Python, React web, AWS and GitLab CI — with fintech/payments experience from a national hackathon win.
